HYDEN, KENTUCKY-March 6, 2008-The Fairy God Foundation will host an open house to distribute free prom dresses on Saturday, March 15, from 11 am-3 pm at the Rockhouse Baptist Church parsonage in Hyden. All students who need assistance in procuring a prom dress are welcome to attend.

OFFICER

“The Rockhouse Baptist Church congregation feels privileged to contribute to this organization’s admirable mission of helping all students be able to attend their prom,” said Ray Wilson, pastor of the church. This is the second year that the church has assisted the Foundation.

DIRECTOR OF COMMUNICATIONS

This will be the Foundation’s only open house of the year, so students who are interested in obtaining a free prom dress should attend the open house or contact the Foundation at (606) 262-4529 or fairygod@fairygodfoundation.org to make alternative arrangements.

“The Fairy God Foundation has been a boon to our students by providing dresses and services beyond what we could provide,” said Vana Francis, Perry County Central social worker.

Rockhouse Baptist Church is located two miles west of the Hyden spur at 24454 Highway 421.

Now in its fourth year, The Fairy God Foundation is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization headquartered in London that is dedicated to providing free prom dresses and accompaniments to disadvantaged high school students across Southeastern Kentucky. Last year, the Foundation helped over 80 students attend proms. For more information, visit www.fairygodfoundation.org.
