

Prom dress drive happening at FHS

Farmington High School's 3rd Annual Prom Dress Drive to support The Fairy God Foundation, kicked off this week and runs through Thursday, March 8.

The dress drive seeks donations of gently worn formal dresses, shoes and accessories suitable for high school proms. Donations may be dropped off in the main office at Farmington High School, or those interested in donating may contact Emily Darnbrook at edarnbrook@fairygodfoundation.org.

Donations benefit The Fairy God Foundation, which provides free dresses, flowers, hair styling and other prom accompaniments to disadvantaged students in the five counties in Appalachian Kentucky.

Since 2005, Farmington High School dress drives have accounted for well over half of all dress donations to The Fairy God Foundation, which is headquartered in Hyden, Ky.

"The staunch support of those at Farmington High School has been invaluable to our success and has enabled our explosive growth," said Stephen M. Wayne, executive director of The Fairy God Foundation.

Donations to the Foundation are tax deductible. For more information, visit online at www.fairygodfoundation.org.
